

Titanic-Writing

Boom! Bang! People were screaming and shouting. The captain was shouting over the megaphone "Everybody please pay attention, stay calm we are going to evacuate the ship, please go to the top deck and stay there."

I woke up with people screaming and my little sister crying. Mum was shouting at me to wake up. I was very tired. I had no idea what was happening. I didn't want to get up. I had to, or else I would die.

I looked at my watch, 23:56 it showed. No wonder I was so tired, it was midnight.

"What's happening? What's happened?" I moaned like a zombie.

"I have no idea sweetie but put your shoes on and get out of here, the Titanic has struck at iceberg, we need to get out of here quickly." Mum moaned.

It looks like were all tired. The impact shattered the window into a million pieces, glass was scattered all over the floor.

We boarded the Titanic 2 days ago in the morning. We had to be in the lower deck, which were all the poor people were. We decided to move to start a better life in New York. My family also lived there which were my dad's family, like my Uncles and Aunties, it looks like it would be a few weeks before we saw them. Hopefully we saw them again.

As I opened the door, I checked that my dad, my mum and Sophie were behind me. I looked back at the door, all the stuff we've been working for the past months were gone just like a lightning bolt hitting the ground and going, it would be the last time I would see my stuff.

"Ok where do we go? "I asked dad.

"I have no idea where we are going, but just be careful of the rising water, because its freezing and will give you hypothermia", dad replied looking around for an exit.

As I turned right, I saw a dead end, how are we going to find the exit, there were hundreds of doors, and one of them had to lead to an exit or a ladder or stairs.

"Umm dad I think we're going to have to check every door", I shouted back to him.

"Ok Sophie go check those doors over there, ill check these ones and Josh you check those door", dad shouted back.

Meanwhile on the other side of the ship, Josh's friend, Tyson, was having the same problem as Josh's family, he's family was also in the lower decks of the ship, they decided to move to America as well to see family, and think that a war would start.

"Are we going home, when will we see Auntie? Tyson cried.

"Soon, will see them soon", Tyson's mum said.

They would soon find out that a soon will become a never, even if they were lucky, the never will happen.

Back on the other side of the ship, Josh's family was still looking for an exit, after 20 minutes of looking, they finally gave up, but then suddenly Sophia had an idea-

"Maybe we can look for a map here somewhere, I saw someone with a map earlier "Sophie said.

"I also saw one earlier, I think there's a map in room 783", Josh replied.

"ok then what are we waiting for? let's go! "Sophie squealed in excitement.

3 hours ago, Tyson and Josh were partying in the deck, first they had salad as the first meal, then turkey with rice on the main course, and for dessert they had chocolate pudding, after they went for a swim in the pool, which was packed with people, they decided to play hide and seek around the whole ship, which only happened for about 10 minutes when 2 people told them that they would have to return to the pool area and stay there.

"Hey! you not allowed to be here, go back to the pool area and stay there, or else I will be telling your parents! "the man shouted.

"Ok, will go back, do you know how far we are from America? "Josh asked.

"NO, GO BACK IMMEDIATELY OR ELSE I WILL BE TELLING YOUR PARENTS "shouted the man.

"ok, ok, angry man", Tyson replied cheekily.

When they returned, they found out that they were 2 days away from America, and that they might have to go around ice that might cause the Titanic to sink to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean, they definitely didn't want that to happen.

"Aha! Found the room, come on everybody, let's start looking for the map! "Mom said in excitement.

When they opened the door, they found out that the impact shattered all the windows on the Titanic, there was glass scattered all over the floor, like there room, if they were to find the map, they would have to be quick, all else they would sink to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean as well, and they did not want that.

"FOUND IT, FOUND IT, FOUND IT!" I Sophie squeezed in excitement while pulling her tongue at Josh.

"Ok give me the map Sophie, let's get out of here", Dad exclaimed.

"But where going to need life jackets right? We're going to need life jackets "spoke Mum.

"Oh yes, very important, were going to need those to survive, cause if we fall off a lifeboat or off the Titanic, we won't survive because of the freezing water "replied Dad.

It looks like I found an exit, look, we go up these stairs, turn left, then to straight, and I think we're there", spoke Sophie.

"Mum? Dad? Cried Tyson

Boom! Crack! Sploosh, water was running inside the cargo room, Tyson had no chance of survival, he was dead.

"Please god, help me, please, please, please "wailed Tyson.

CRACK! Water started pouring in from behind Tyson, as soon as he touched the water, he started shivering, he tried to open the door, but it was useless, the hinges were frozen, and debris started to come in through the door, if he managed to open the door, debris would pour in, hurting him and killing him faster.

CRACK! Another crack started on the left side of the room, the containers that held mail were pouring out of the container, the reason why because Titanic, was RMS Titanic, RMS stands for Royal Mail Ship.

At that time, Olympic and Britannic were being built, which were Titanic's sisters, Olympic looked the same as Titanic, while Britannic, was longer than them, while the other 2 were much thicker, Titanic could hold 3457 people, on this voyage, it carried 2223 people, the maximum of course, because it was going to be its first maiden voyage, and it's last maiden voyage.

It was a couple of minutes before Tyson's family noticed that Tyson was gone, and as soon as they noticed, they started screaming and shouting, but it was too late, Tyson was dead, he would never come back Creek! Josh opened the door slowly, as stoned as he opened it, he hear screaming and shouting and crying, people were running and jumping off the ship, the brave people were at the front of the ship, waiting for an available lifeboat for them to climb on.

WEEEE! WEEEE! WEEEE! The alarms were still on, shouldn't they be off?, thought Josh.

The alarms stopped suddenly, and then, a big crack appeared in the middle of the boat, the boat was going to be cut in half, like a person cutting wood.

BOOM! SCREECH went the metal on the boat as it got cut in half, and then, BANG! The bottom half of the ship was now sinking towards the deep, dark, cold seabed of the Atlantic Ocean.

"My son! my son! cried Tyson's mum

"We've got to go now, or else we will DIE! shouted Tyson's dad.

"MY SON, WE CAN'T LEAVE HIM BEHIND, HE'S MY SON", cried Tyson's mum
Tyson's dad grabbed Tyson's mum, water was rising rapidly, and if they didn't get out of there in the next five minutes, they would join Tyson as well.

On the deck, Josh's family had just realized that they would need life jackets, if they got on one of the lifeboats, and they had no life jackets, and the lifeboat overturned they would die.

"We need life jackets, right, do we need life jackets?" asked Josh

The whole family realized that they left the life jacket problem to the last minute, it was a mistake they made, a mistake that might cost them their lives, but then suddenly, Josh remembered something-

"I saw some life jackets earlier near the exit, I thought they were shirts "said Josh.

Fwoom! the electricity was out, the light turned off and the alarm turned off, for a second, everybody went silent, then, BOOM!, there was an explosion in the front of the ship, the water had damaged the electricity cords that run throughout the whole ship, fuel was leaking, and the leak of fuel and the touch of electricity caused a little explosion, but soon, the whole ship that was still above water would burn, anyone who was still trapped would be either burned to death or drown.

"What was that?" asked Sophie.

No one responded, Sophie asked again-

"What was that?" asked Sophie a little bit louder than before.

Again, no one responded there were too busy looking at the map, then-

"I found the exit, but the life jackets aren't there, someone must've taken them already" Dad said in disappointment.

"I saw some life jackets earlier, but there were in water" Mum said.

When Mum said that, everyone was rushing to find the exit, it took 10 minutes to find it, when they found it, they all climbed down, Dad being the last.

When Josh put his foot down, the first thing he heard was a loud splash, he thought that somebody was swimming towards them, but nobody was swimming towards, it was the sound of his own foot touching the water.

"There are the life jackets!" shouted Josh

The life jackets were on the other side of the hall, but the whole hall was filled up with water, there was no way they could get to the other side of the hall without getting hypothermia.

But then suddenly Josh jumped in, started swimming to the other side, as soon as he got all his body wet, 5 seconds later he started shivering, it was going to be a cold swim, a very cold swim.

Chatter! Chatter! Chatter! he teeth started to chatter, if he didn't get out of here in the next 2 minutes, he would get hypothermia, or he could die.

Josh took ne last big gap of air, and then he started swimming underwater as fast as he could, he could see the life jackets, there were 20 meters away, then finally, what had felt like forever, he started swimming back, he was gasping for air, he knew if he didn't get a gasp of air in the next 10 seconds, he would drown.

Finally, he reached the exit, as soon as his head was above water he was pulled out by his dad, he was exhausted by the swim, he was chattering like he never chattered before, he wished that he could be at his Aunties house, right now, having a warm chocolate, but that was far away.

SPLOOSH! SPLOOSH! SPLASH! Water was rushing into the hall, the Tyson's family weren't lucky this time, they were very unlucky, they had no way of space, they would join Tyson.

CRACK! CREEK!, the wall we're starting to leak, water was rushing in a pump pumping water into a fish tank, in a couple of minutes, the whole room would be filled with cold water, Tyson's mum tried to open the door, but it was useless, the door was jammed with chairs and tables and beds and other debris.

Tyson's dad tried to kick the door down, BAM, BAM, BAM, the door wasn't budging, wasn't moving at all, CRACK!

More water started to rush in, 10 liters were being pumped every 15 second, the water was now up to chest heights, 2 more minutes sand the whole room would be filled up.

5 minutes had pasted since Josh was pulled out of the freezing water, he was still chattering and shivering, he tried to stop it, but he was helpless, he had never felt so cold in his life.

Fshhhhhh! Fshhhhhh! the sound of fire was getting closer, and closer, they had to move or else they would get burnt.

people, the other 18 lifeboats were deployed by Titanic one of them had been turned upside down and floated away, minutes later I had sank, just like the Titanic had, the other one had also being deployed upside down, an also floated away and sank.

"THERE, THERES A LIFEBOAT, there's no people on it! "shouted Sophie, she managed to spot one when she was scanning, looking for an available one.

"where is it?", asked Mum.

Sophie and Josh pointed at the available lifeboat, which 2 people had already climbed on.

"Come on, let's go! "exclaimed Dad in excitement.

Thy ran to the lifeboat, Josh was the first one in and Dad was the last one, as soon as they got in, they sighed with a huge amount of relief; they were saved! now they had to wait till another boat came and took them to America, it would be a few days before they got to see their family.

Back in New York, word had gone around that the famous Titanic had crashed, there was as child holding a sign that said "Titanic crashed, great loss of life", people were also reading the morning newspaper, it said "crash of Titanic".

Back near the Titanic, Josh and his family were waiting to be picked up by a boat, the whole boat was already full of people, there were 47 people on there, each cramming and pushing to get space, then, the4 boat came that had come to save them, they hopped on the boat, leaving he lifeboat empty, the captain of the boat was scanning the Titanic for any more people, he saw no one, he started to move the boat to the right, and then, fwoosh!, they were off, they survived the horrible crash of the Titanic, but for half of the people when the people, they weren't so lucky, 1347 people died during the crash, 103 of them were women, and 685 crew died, it was a very big loss of life, materials, and had captured he world attention, even 100 years later.
