

We studied the School Learning Dispositions so that we could come up our own characters and give them names to remind us how important the qualities are. This is Resilient Rose, she will bounce back from challenges with a smile. She has super strength. She believes in herself.

