Dear Mr Blackwood

I think the school should have a research day every week because you can learn facts about your favourite things if you want to.

Firstly you can learn more about your favourite things for example dinosaurs, animals, solar systems and Ancient Egypt.

secondly If you want to be something like a Scientist, geologist, Paleontologists or even an astronaut you might have a good chance of going to university and maybe getting to be one.

Thirdly, It can be fun for lots of kids in this school that want to do this or kids that play video games they could give it a try and think it's fun. Kids can get smarter and could be what they want to be.

Lastly I hope you will agree with me. Also the teachers can decide what day and what time. I really want to do this so kids can be smarter.
