

Brigadier Amanda Williamson

Backstory

When Brigadier's grandmother joined the Royal Navy at 16 years old. She met an Australian pilot and decided to marry that man.

What does she

Brigadier Williamson holds a Bachelor of Asian Studies of International relations. She also holds the master of defence and Strategic Studies and qualification of leadership with emergency management.

Major accomplishments

Williamson was appointed to the Royal Australian Electrical and Engineering Corps.

Why she joined the army

Brigadier was only 19 when she joined the military force, in 1994 she graduated from the Royal Military College. Brigadier is a career officer yet also an Army reserve officer. She was in the first wave of soldiers who were sent to East Timor in the early 2000's.

Famous for

Amanda is famous for being a female leader, in male dominated emergency roles and for earning the U.S Bronze Star.

