

Kim Felmingham NSC OAM

Warrant officer Kim Felmingham was enlisted in the Australian Regular Army and became a medical attendant in 1990. She had a balance of trade, instructional, regimental and operational services throughout her career. Warrant officer Kim had her first regimental Sergeant Major (RSM) in 2006. Kim Felmingham subsequent appointments have led her to get an opportunity to gain tactic and strategic level of command.

With that opportunity, Warrant Officer Felmingham had gained significant professional development opportunities across countries such as USA and Australia. In America, she attended the US Army Sargeant Major Academy during 2007. She served as a Faculty Advisor in 2008. with the position, RSM JTF 633. She also participated in several international seminars.

Kim was awarded the NSC (Nursing Service Cross) in 2000, the US Meritorious Service Medal in 2010 and the medal of Order of Australia in 2018 for her services in the Afghanistan (2001-2021), Somalia (1992-1995) and East Timor (1999-2013).

